

Human Rights and Lives

Sustainability Strategy Ideas

- Conduct regular surveys to assess the degree to which young people understand their rights within your group and feel empowered to assert them.
- Create a poster campaign highlighting the key rights and responsibilities of all young people.
- Have a designated 'safe space' where young people can report, either verbally or in writing, incidents that have taken place or suggestions on improving structures within your group or school.
- Introduce a "fairtrade only" policy on all food sold within the group or school.
- Establish a structured voting system for implementing new ideas or procedures within your group or school.
- Contact your STEAM Mentor to discuss additional human rights and lives strategy options.

Introduction Activity

We recommend consulting the Human Rights and Lives resources from the Butterfly Effect primary program for ideas on how to explore this topic.

Additionally, you could introduce the theme using this short activity:

Activity	Split the group into teams of 2-4. Ask each team to consider their day yesterday from the moment they woke up, to the moment they went to sleep: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>▪ What resources did they use or have access to?</li><li>▪ Where did they go?</li><li>▪ Who did they interact with and how were they treated?</li></ul> Now ask the group to strip back that day to just what they consider 'essential'. What aspects of their day would change as a result? List resources, people and experiences that they consider essential.
Resources	Paper and pens
Discussion Points	How do each team's lists differ or match? How might the list by a team from a different part of the world or a different point in history differ from their own?
